STEN TRAINED ISRAEL'S PREMIER

Tol-Aviv, Sept. 12.—A 36-year-old bearded man today aimed a Sten gun at the Israeli Premier, Mr Ben Gurion, from the visitors' gallery of Parliament. No shots were fired and he was disarmed.

The assallant penetrated into the Presidential box while Par-Hament was debuting the Education Bill

: Hia name was given an Abraham Tzfati. He succeeded in smuggling the Sten gun in pamphlets calling for the establishment of a third Jewish temple in Jerusalem.

When he entered the Presidential box he was imistaken for a body-guard, but after a few minutes he brandished the Sten gun and was noticed by a former member of the Irgun Zval Leuml, the old Jewish terrorist organisation. The alarm was raised and he was soon overpowered by attendants and taken out. Parliament continued Its debute.

Ministers Arrive At 7-Point Agreement

Washington, Sept. 12.—The Anglo-American-Canadian monetary conference ended today with a seven-point agreement that was hailed officially as a "real contribution" towards solution of Britain's dollar crisis.

The agreement was announced jointly by the Financial and Foreign Ministers of the three powers at the close of six days of negotiation. The British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, said he believed the accord would halt the immediate drain on British dollar resources that had brought his country to the brink of bankruptcy.

WEREDICTING for China in the coming year conditions of misery and disruption on an unprecedented scale, foreign experts on Chinese affairs lay particular stress on the prospect of a great famine which, in their opinion, may be far more acute than that which ravaged the country in 1931-32. During those years. hundreds of thousands perished from starvation, brought on by natural disasters as well as by the depredations of invading Japanese forces. In that grim period, China imported nearly three and a half million tons of food from abroad. Much of this was contributed by foreign countries. Then, and at other difficult periods within recent memory, China had the advantage of foreign commerce, friendship and assistance and relatively stable internal political, social and economic conditions. Floods last year and this year in the Yangtse basin have drastically reduced the rice output in this normally most productive aren; similarly, floods. have greatly curtailed rice production in the South. Floods and drought in Hopeh and other North China provinces have cut grain yields there as well. It must be remembered that, for decades, China has never grown enough food to feed herself. Since the end of the Pacific War, the shoringe has been greater than ever. Despite government purchases and UNRRA and other aid contributions, hunger has stalked the country from one end to the other. The civil war, spreading to more and more provinces, dislocating whole populations and interfering with normal productive. activities, has made the situation much worse than it would otherwise have been. With the stoppage of foreign aid supplies. with the closure of ports to imports from facilities-never at any time adequate or reliable-further reduced through war destruction and fuel shortages, the position is becoming grave in the extreme. Hunger has always been China's oldest and most grievous problem. No Chinese government so far has been able to solve it. And it is indeed problematical the humanitarian motive, if such offers were to be made to them now, remains.

Last week 145 Italian: repairiates arrived there from men were ordinary criminals and their cases had been likely to receive the same degree of importance in the talks as water for gardens and sports did the shooting, but had made. abroad, and with inland transportation to be tested.

whether the Chinese Communists, a large part of whose propaganda consists of promises that they will give the people more or, at least, sufficient, to ent, will be any the more successful. Considering their internal and external difficulties, it is more than likely that conditions will steadily 'deteriorate. No one can foresee the result, except in terms of widespread and ghastly suffering. Reports have no doubt been made available to the Food and Agricultural Organisation of the United Nations, which will meet shortly at Singapore. The problem obviously calls for international action. Hore, however, complications arise. Even If both the Nationalists and the Communists can be made to see the plight of the millions in the country, and permit the shipment from abroad of supplies for purely relief purposes, what are the chances that the Communists will not seek to use these supplies for political purposes? To obviate that, conditions could be attached to any offers of aid that distribution should be in the hands of international agencies. In the past, while the Nationalists were controlling the best part of the country, the Communists have not been slow to denounce such outside aid to China as Western imperialism. Sir.—Since I am a Formosan just arrived from our native island, it is a great interest of mine to read your Editorial on Saturday, September 10, 1949. on "Whither Formosa?" The islands of Formosa and the Pescadores are certainly becoming of international importance. I have read many kinds of recent opinions concerning the future status of Formesa, howed the importance of the popular opinion of the Formosan people who have a hereditary right to claim for sovereignty of the island. Today I am glad to read from your paper that the Formosan Indepence Movement led by Dr Thomas W. I. Liao, the President of the Formosan League for Re-Emancipation, has aroused much sympathy abroad.

As I have just come from Formosa, I know that the Formosans inside the Island have been solidly united to support the Formosan League for Re-Emancipation who are struggling to get rid of the Chinese K M T reactionary tyrant and at the same time resisting against the invasion of the Chinese Communists in the We Forimmediate future. mosans, a great majority of them are both anti-Chinese KMT and anti - Communist. Bill To Go To Senate

Republicans Drop China Demand

Washington, Sept. 12.—The Joint Benate Committee today formally approved the US$1,-314,010,000 military aid bill for free nations after the Republifor a specific arms grant to the Chinese anti-Communists.

The action, by a 20-3 vote of the combined Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees, cent the military assistance programmes to the Senate floor, where it will be debuted in about three weeks.

The Republicans, who had insisted on a specific grant for the non-Communists in China, ngreed to a compromise permitting-but not ordering-President Truman to spend the $75,000,000 in aren" of China. The Committee chairman.

Senator Tom Connally, told reporters that the almost unanimous Committee augured well for "almost solid support" on the Senate floor. THREE AGAINST Democratic Senators Walter George, Richard Russell and Harry Byrd cast the only votes against the bill. They wanted to cut the spending total. Republican Committee members had threatened for a time to block action on the whole arms bill by going all out for military aid to China. They had condemned the "permissive" grant as a false compromise, but Senator William Knowland, leader of the Republican bloc, said after the vote that the final version was "satisfactory" to

BADGER'S VIEW

Vice-Admiral Oscar Badger, former commander of the Far Eastern fleet, told a news conference just before the Committee acted that $75,000,000 of American arms ald would be sufficient to stem the Communist advance in China "if properly applied." Admiral Badger, who returned recently from China and testified before the Joint | Senate Committee, last week said further military help should be contingent upon the Chinese Nationalists offering a "constructive, timely and feasible" plan for using it.

Admiral Badger said that past US military aid to China had not shown results because most of it had been given "without regard to its constructive application."

BILL'S PROVISIONS

The Senate bill provides: 1. For the North Atlantic Pact nations US$1,000,000,000 for guns, tanks, planes and other munitions. All but $100,-| 000,000 will be withheld, however, undl President Truman approves common defence plans and objectives of the Pact's Council and Defence Committee.

2 For Greece and Turkey, an additional $211,370,000 for the "quarantine Communism" programme started in the Middle East in 1947.

3. For Korea, the Philippines and Iran, the Committee recommended $27,640,000. Committee action gave the administration all the money it nsked, except for $160,990,000 for Western Europe. This was eliminated as a compromise gesture to Schators Arthur Vandenberg, John Foster Dulles and other Republicans, who wanted to strike out funds for American machine tools to help equip European arms plants. The Committee decided to permit the export of machine tools and raw materials, expected to cost about $145,000,000.—United Press

CLUB CRICKET TEAMS WILL BE STRONGER THIS YEAR

By "RECORDER"

With the first club cricket trials due in the latter part of this month, the First Division captains are measuring up the available talent with but scanty knowledge of the newcomers beyond the reputations they bring with them.

All the non-Service clubs, with the exception of the League Champions, Club de Recreio, and the Indian Recreation Club, report a considerable influx of new playing members of rumoured Senior League standard and an almost blanket return of last year's teams.

If the reputations of the newcomers bear up, the Clubs, it seems, will not be outdistanced by the large number of new players available to the Services.

TURING the war I had a lot 1) of fun going to various Army and Navy hospitals throughout the country and doing eard tricks for the boys. Bob Hawk made an appeal or. the radio at that time for decks of cards, and we got close to a mean? million and a quarter decks. I made a lot of these into trick decks, so I could teach the boys how to do some simple card tricks without much practice.

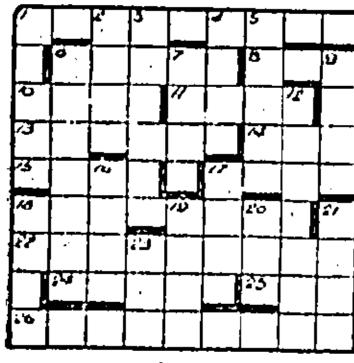

Quite often I heard from some of the boys, and just recently. I received a letter from Curtin P. Cook. He said that the boys who played today's hand are all confined to the voterans hospital in Atlanta. Ga. They all have tuberculosis treatment. They cannot play The Kite That Got Stuck very often, but when they do, they take their bridge very seriously.

Cook thought he had stretched the bidding a little when he bld two no trump. I cannot criticise that. SCAP "Afraid Of Big American For Uranium Pressure Groups"

THE BUSINESSMAN

IMPORTER'S CHARGE

New York, Sept. 12.—An American importer, today charged that SCAP in Tokyo was "holding up great quantities of cottons, woollens and cottonrayon mixtures because United States pressure groups want prices kept high."

Mr Isaac B. Cohen, President of the import firm bearing his name and engaged in trade in Japan for 25 years, said that he had personally discovered one instance and attributed the practice to fear by SCAP officials of "powerful American manufacturers forming pressure groups."

Czech Bishops Offer 7-Point Peace Plan

Prague, Sept. 12.—Czechoslovakia's Catholic Bishops disclosed today that they had offered the Communist Government a seven point "peace plan" which was drawn up at an illegal meeting last month at Trnava, in Slovakia, when the Bishops went there to consecrate two new Bishops.

The Bishops issued the text of their memorandum to the Government, dated August 14, through a Catholic spokesman. Besides their peace plan, the Bishops made a series of conditions, demands and protests, and warned the Commnists that it would be "difficult for the Government," if it passed laws which the clergy could not accept.

Should Start Ridiculing Communism

Manila, Sept. 12.—Representative Walter B. Huber, of the United States Congress, said at a press conference today: "We should stop fearing Communism and start ridiculing it." He said: "In the United States, we hear little about the Republican and Democratic parties but much about Communist parties. We should let him (Communism) out of school and if he gets tough hit him in he nose."

Mr Huber, who is one of five visiting-congressmen who met the local press today at the Manila Overseas Press Club. explained: "I do not mem we can entirely laugh off Communism, but we can stop worrying about it and start ridiculing it
